

EXHIBITION AT R.J.P. DAWSON LIBRARY

SELECTION CRITERIA

- The artist must reside in Mount Royal.
- Although the works are not submitted to a selection committee, they should at least be of a semi-professional calibre.
- The exhibition dates are assigned on a first come, first served basis. However, priority may be given to artists that have never exhibited at the library.
- There are no restrictions on the types of media that artists may use.
- The subject of the exhibited works must be appropriate for a public space that is frequented by youngsters.
- The works must be framed or have a hook or other device that allows them to be securely hung.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- The artist has free use of the Exhibition Hall or the Art Wall for about four weeks. A glass display case is also available.
- The wall in the Exhibition Hall is white and measures approximately 7.2 m long and 2.7 m high. The Art Wall is located in the heart of the library and consists of a brick wall approximately 6.6 m long and 2.7 m high. The display case located in the library's foyer measures approximately 1.95 m x 1.2 m x 40 cm.
- Exhibitors have complete freedom regarding how their exhibition space is used. Artist's sketchbooks, the artist's biography, business cards, etc. may be included with the exhibit.
- The works are generally hung on a Friday morning by library staff according to the exhibitor's instructions.
- Artists are free to sell the exhibited works. Should they decide to do so, a description of the works and a price list may accompany the exhibit. All transactions are directly between the artist and the buyer; the library plays no role in the sale and receives no commission or other compensation related to the sale.
