

The Reginald J. P. Dawson Library offers a regular preschool storytelling programme for children from ages 0 to 5 years old.

Storytime introduces children to the magic of stories in a group setting. Although books form the basis of the preschool activity, nursery rhymes and crafts complement the program.

Preschool storytime is a valuable learning experience for young children. Besides introducing them to books, storytime is often their first group experience and aids in the development of listening, seeing and comprehension skills, and . . .it's fun!
